This action is responsive to the communication filed April 3, 2006.

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-3, drawn to a valve, classified in class 137, subclass 625.48.
- II. Claim 4-6, drawn to a water treatment system, classified in class 210, subclass 263.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the allowability may be predicated on the combination. The subcombination has separate utility such as a pump bypass valve.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Newly submitted claims 4-6 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: see above.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 4-6 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hankison et al in view of Jennings.

Hankison et al show a water bypass valve where the seals 52 and 54 are at ends of the central bore in the bypass position of Figure 1 and seal 52 is at the middle of the bore in the service position of Figure 2. The claim recitations of service and tank merely relate to intended use and are given no weight. Hankison et al do not show a geared actuator, though. Jennings shows a multiway piston valve with a hand actuated rack and pinion actuator that travels 180 degrees between detents 120, 122. It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used such an actuator as shown by Jennings to move the valve of Hankison et al to provide an increased force, for example, or a detent at the operating positions.

Applicant's arguments filed April 6, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Although Jennings is a three way valve, it is a reciprocating piston multiway valve and broadly analogous to the valve of Hankison et al, and substituting one type of actuator for another, of the same type of valve, is well within the ambit of §103.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
